Nixon-Rocky Compromise To Shape Platform

CHICAGO (AP) — Republican platform writers today started reshaping planks to conform to an understanding reached during a dramatic night meeting between Vice President Richard M. Nixon and Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller.

The full 103-member platform committee scheduled a meeting which was expected to bring agreement on this as the final form of the party declaration, in all its general statements.

Joseph F. Carlino of New York, chairman of the civil rights subcommittee, had said Friday that any final word from the top—he meant Nixon but took Rockefeller into account—would be taken as guidance by the entire committee.

Upon being advised of the Nixon-Rockefeller settlement today, Carlino said it certainly would expedite final approval of the platform.

The shape of the platform had been the one issue in which Rockefeller had maintained a position of opposition to Nixon.

Although he had said he was receptive to a draft for the GOP presidential nomination, there had appeared to be no chance that Rockefeller was a real threat.

But Rockefeller, keeping close touch with platform deliberations here this week, had served notice he wasn't pleased with the way the GOP campaign banner was taking shape. On this point, he remained a storm center in an otherwise calm convention scene.

The eight-hour huddle with Nixon in New York, arranged at Nixon's request, smoothed out this last somewhat mountainous boundary between their positions.

It was a compromise, Rockefeller worked in some of his most cherished language, but the document seemed hardly to deviate in any important respect from the Eisenhower administration line on these key issues.

Nixon has said he would use the Eisenhower record as a base and build upon it. The compromise appeared to be a start in that direction.

The platform must still be adopted next week by the Republican convention, of course. But the agreement of the two Titans of the party seemed to make that a foregone conclusion.

Before the New York meeting, these were major points which Rockefeller had insisted should be in the platform:

1. A 3½ billion dollar increase immediately in defense spending. This figure was not mentioned in Rockefeller's account of the compromise, although there was language about the need for "new efforts."
2. The financing of a medical care for the aged plan through the existing social security system. This was opposed by President Eisenhower, who favored a state-federal voluntary plan. The compromise mentioned a "sound fiscal basis" and the "option of purchasing private health insurance."
3. A strong civil rights plank.

Thousands of Men Battling Fires in 200,000 Acres

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
More than 200,000 acres of the West's most rugged land was ablaze today. Thousands of men battled the flames. Five died in the process.

Lightning, and in some cases man himself, was responsible for the fires that caused damage in the millions of dollars and cost more millions to fight. In California alone, the loss was some 10 million dollars.

A note of cautious optimism, tempered by a 50-50 chance for more lightning in the pivotal point where Oregon, Idaho and Washington meet, crept into official reports. Temperatures were in the 90s. The fire outbreak was described as the worst in 30 years.

The dead included two men crews of two World War II bombers converted for borate-bombing runs over the fires and another pilot killed making a water drop

Alpine Town Sees Pickled Bears Dance

TRENT, Italy (AP) — Woodsmen near this Alpine town are still talking about the wildest bear dance since Salome shed the seventh veil.

It had every right to be a wing-ding—the two performing bears lapped up the better part of 250 quarts of wine between them.

Anyway you want to look at bears or wine, that's a skin-fell.

Prof. Peter Krott, custodian of the animals has been here for some time keeping tabs on their habits, all for the sake of science.

But the two bears sneaked out on the professor a couple of nights ago—and woodsmen of Lares in the valley of Genoa, near Trent, tell the rest of the tale:

The two prowlers raided a temporarily abandoned Alpine camp and ate their fill of sausage and other stored supplies.

Then they found, upturned and opened, five 50-quart demijohns of north Italian wine and got a jag-zized snootful.

The two bears reared up on their hind legs and tried every thing from the Charleston to Rock 'N' Roll.

"Man," the amazed woodsmen told townsfolk afterward, "there never was anything like it."

Prof. Krott's same two bears staggered back to the same Alpine camp the following night, weak but still willing.

They sniffed and snooped but couldn't find a hair of the dog that bit them.

Woodsman had hung all remaining supplied—and demijohns—in the higher branches of nearby trees.

Ohio Legionaires Continue Powwow

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Resolutions are the order of business today as the Ohio American Legion swings into the second day of its 42nd annual convention.

Delegates heard Donald R. Wilson, a past commander from Clarksburg, W. Va., deliver the keynote address Friday.

Wilson said the United States must tell where it stands if it hopes to remain a world leader. "We must be ready to fight if need be," Wilson said, and "the only way to meet the challenge is head-on, and the fear of war dare not be so great that we surrender in disgrace rather than risk conflict."

over a British Columbia fire. One B26 crashed in eastern Oregon and the other in Southern California.

More than 68,000 acres of Angeles National Forest lay charred, but fires slowed from their swift pace of previous days. The worst remaining was the Bootlegger Canyon fire on the east flank of the Magic Mountain fire.

A 46,000-acre northern California brush fire was stopped shy of San Simeon Castle, former home of the late William Randolph Hearst and now a state park, but approached within 10 miles of Paso Robles, some 200 miles south of San Francisco. The flames were unchecked by battling crews.

Lightning swept through Montana, leaving 30 new fires behind. Lt. Gov. Paul Cannon alerted the Montana National Guard to stand by as 20,000 acres burned. The bazes were in rugged terrain near Helena and Lewistown.

Some 900 men held their fire lines on 10,000 acres of burning forest in western Idaho near Idaho City, but another 9,000 acres of Payette National Forest timber burned unchecked.

Some 23,000 acres in the Wallowa-Whitman National Forest in Oregon and Washington burned. Some 4,000 men fought some 200 blazes, many out of control and some even unmanned.

Officer Spots Intruder Here, Fires Shots

City Patrolman Richard Anderson flushed a burglary suspect near Fitzpatrick's Printery, E. Main St., at about 4 a. m. today.

Anderson fired several shots at the fleeing man. The suspect ran down an alley to Franklin St. where he managed to elude searching officers.

Officer Anderson said he spotted the man while patrolling on Main St. He said the person appeared to be looking in a window of the printery on the west side of the building adjacent to Moats' Car lot.

Anderson said he drove on past, parked his cruiser and walked back to the scene. He said the man ran, failing to heed two warning shots.

Anderson said he fired again as the person was running down the alley. Again the suspect failed to stop.

Police Chief Robert Temple said the incident is under investigation. He said there is no indication the printery was entered.

No burglary tools were found at the scene.

Temple said the attempt may be connected with the theft of eight tires and wheels last night from a 1958 Chevrolet, W. Main St. He said the loot was taken from a lot across the street from the car firm.

Gasoline Price Hiked

CLEVELAND (AP) — Gasoline costs a penny more in most stations today. Five gasoline companies—Sohio, Shell, Amoco, Sunoco and Pure—announced price increases Friday. Cities Service will raise prices Monday.

Nixon, Rockefeller Agree On Republican Platform

U.S. To Expose Soviet Spy Lie

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) —The United States promised to expose a lie Russian charges a U.S. reconnaissance plane was on a spy mission when it was shot down by a Soviet fighter July 1.

U.S. Chief Delegate Henry Cabot Lodge served notice Friday night he would have a "great deal" to say when the United Nations Security Council meets again Monday over the shooting incident which he described as "criminal and piratical."

Lodge blasted Soviet charges as a "sinister fabrication" at Friday's Council session highlighted by the presence of the wives of the plane's crew.

He spoke after Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Vasily V. Kuznetsov told the 11-nation Council the United States had sent the plane into Soviet air space "to detect the system of radar stations and other military objectives" in the Soviet Union.

Kuznetsov demanded in a resolution that the council condemn "these continuing provocative actions" by the U.S. Air Force; label them "aggressive acts," and insist that the United States "take immediate steps to put an end to such actions." The resolution was not expected to pass.

Lodge declared that at no time during the flight was the RB47 closer than 30 miles from the Soviet coast.

U.S. officials said they will prove the plane was over international water when shot down. Kuznetsov quoted the two surviving crewmen as saying they were instructed not to maintain radio communication with their base in Brize Norton, England.

"Since the RB47 did not communicate with its coordinates," he said, "the question arises as to the grounds on which the version was invented that this plane allegedly did not intrude inside the Soviet Union."

The Soviet envoy said the crewmen—Lt. John Richard McKone, Tonganoxie, Kan., navigator, and Lt. Freeman B. Olmstead, Elmira, N.Y., copilot—testified that the plane was part of "an air unit of the American military strategic intelligence belonging to Wing 55, and was carrying out a special mission of a military intelligence nature."

Kuznetsov said, "The Soviet Court will try Lieutenants McKone and Olmstead with the full severity of Soviet law."

3 Bearded Jail Escapes Are Nabbed

CHARDON, Ohio (AP)—Three bearded escapees from Geauga County Jail surrendered meekly when authorities caught up with them early today, less than 10 hours after they fled the 100-year-old jail.

Plain-clothes policemen walked into a tavern in Richmond Heights and captured the two as they sat at a table sipping soft drinks.

The fugitives were Kenneth Hawkins, 21, of Tampa, Fla., held on charges of car theft and larceny; Lawrence D. Cullum, 23, of Chardon, serving a one-year sentence for contributing to the delinquency of a minor, and Allen Van Orman, 22, of Middlefield, held on a breaking and entering charge.

Authorities declined to say who tipped them off that the fugitives were in the tavern, operated by John Killar, 40, of Euclid.

Three, all sporting beatnik-style beards, had escaped by kicking a hole in the ceiling close to where a prisoner escaped in the same manner in 1958, sheriff's deputies said.

Once through the hole, they ran down a fire escape to freedom. Killar said the escapees had been caught in a rainstorm and were drenched when they came into his place. They made a telephone call and sat at a table.

A 19-year-old girl, the sister of one of the men, came into the tavern 10 minutes after police arrived, deputies said. The girl was held for questioning.

A car that had been used in the escape was found abandoned.

California Fire Kills 7 Persons

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Seven persons—five children and a man and a woman—burned to death last night in a fire that destroyed a house in the suburban Lennox area.

By talking to neighbors, sheriff's detectives identified the victims as Mrs. Dorothy Blair, 30, her five children, and the man, Delbert Stack, about 28.

Firemen found Stack's charred body in the living room of the three-room, one-story frame house.

The bodies of Mrs. Blair and four of her children—Betty Jo, 11; Jean, 9; Hugh, 7, and Lucky, 5—were in a bedroom. Not found immediately was the body of Mary Lou, 4, but Sheriff's Lt. George M. Whaley said, "we have no reason to believe she isn't there."

Tracks Clear For United GOP Campaign Front

Secret 8-Hour Parley Fails To Disclose if Rocky Will Be Veep

CHICAGO (AP) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon today appeared to have cleared the tracks for a united Republican effort in November with a compromise agreement with Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller on basic platform issues.

In an eight-hour New York meeting which he took the initiative in arranging, Nixon and the New York governor agreed on what the latter called "specific and basic positions on foreign policy and national defense."

"These constitute the basic positions for which I have been fighting," Rockefeller said in a statement. "If they are embodied in the Republican platform as adopted by the convention they will constitute a platform that I can support with pride and vigor."

There wasn't the shadow of a doubt in the minds of Republicans working on the platform that when it is presented to next week's convention it will represent the composite views of Nixon and Rockefeller.

Because of this, Rockefeller is statement was hailed as cheering news in the Nixon camp. It went a long way toward assuring Nixon's associates they will have the enthusiastic support of Rockefeller in crucial efforts to carry New York State in November.

Beyond that the groundwork seemed to have been laid for Rockefeller to withdraw gracefully from any contest for the presidential nomination Nixon appears certain to win from the convention next week.

Rockefeller has said previously he is available for a draft that he doesn't expect to materialize. He based the possibility that his name might go before the convention largely on the grounds that he wanted to influence the platform declarations.

This object having been accomplished, some Republicans felt Rockefeller, who returns here today, might now give Nixon a clear field for the top nomination.

Rockefeller said that in the dramatic meeting he had reiterated his stand that he will not accept second place on the ticket. He said Nixon agreed to respect this decision.

While this seemed to indicate that there will be no pressure from Nixon's camp for a Nixon-Rockefeller ticket, it did not necessarily rule out the possibility that a convention surge would develop in that direction.

Some Republicans thought that a substantial number of delegates might feel that since Rockefeller and Nixon had reached a meeting of the minds on major campaign issues they ought to get together on the ticket.

One New York source, who declined to be quoted by name, even went further with the line of speculation.

He said he could not conceive of Nixon agreeing to some of Rockefeller's views unless "something else was involved—meaning, of course, a place on the ticket for Rockefeller."

Once having expressed satisfaction with the platform some felt

Little Rhode Island Town Pays Honor to Special Guest

NEWPORT, R. I. (AP)—They sat there in the park in the lazy July sun—the ruddy-faced man and his wife with the twinkling eyes.

They were two among 1,000 or so, listening to Henry Wilkinson who used to be mayor of this one-time capital of Rhode Island. In the background was the Newport County Courthouse and just across the way was the historic State House, now a museum.

In front and a bit to the right of the smiling man and his wife, who was smiling too, was a fife and drum corps of youngsters—all of them smartly uniformed in bright red jackets, white breeches, black leggings and tricorn hats.

The former mayor, kindly Mr. Wilkinson, was talking—and the ruddy-faced man and his wife eased to the edge of their chairs, the better to hear.

Mr. Wilkinson was noting that the small park in Washington Square—right where all this was going on—was being named for an important man. For many years the park had simply been called The Mall. Now that was being changed. And Mr. Wilkinson was telling why.

He was saying that this nation's first president, George Washington, was known as first in war, first in peace and first in the hearts of his countrymen.

And he was saying, too, that the important man being honored Friday afternoon—the man after whom the park was being named—also is, in a modern way, "first and foremost" in peace and in the hearts of his countrymen.

Then the important man got up—the man for whom they were naming the park. The crowd applauded. He smiled a big smile. And then he said:

"I am deeply touched by this kind of gracious incident and thought."

He went on to say something about having a "rather long and unusual name," and he wondered whether future generations would wonder why in the world the little park has been named for him.

A moment later the ruddy-faced man and his wife—Dwight D. Eisenhower, president of the United States, and his wife, Mamie, drove off.

Congo Chieftain Flying to U.S.

Lumumba To Seek Economic Assist

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —Premier Patrice Lumumba was flying to the United States today to seek aid for the Congo as the Communists and Western business interests raced to get a foothold in developing the new nation's economy.

While shopping around for American capital and more technical aid, Lumumba is also expected to review the explosive military situation in the Congo with United Nations Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjöld.

Hammarskjöld canceled plans to leave Sunday for the Congo where the U.N. has been funneling in a police force and announced he would remain in New York to see Lumumba.

Lumumba has been busy bolstering his nation's economy, but its political status remained dangerously unsettled.

Before leaving Leopoldville, Lumumba signed a 50-year agreement with an American financier to develop his country's mineral and power resources worth an estimated two billion dollars. He also got bids from Russia and Communist East Germany to help build the new nation's economy.

The premier had two thorny problems to review with Hammarskjöld: withdrawal of Belgian forces from the Congo and the future of the rich Katanga province. The Katanga Assembly has proclaimed itself an independent republic, but the Lumumba government refuses to recognize the secession.

Violence flared Friday near a Katanga mining center. Belgian airborne troops fought Congolese mutineers. A Belgian spokesman said about 16 Congolese and two Belgians were killed and many wounded.

British Scientist Said 'Victim of Science'

WALLINGFORD, England (AP) —A coroner ruled Friday that Sir Raymond Hart, one of Britain's radar pioneers, died "a victim of the science he loved."

Hart, 61, was electrocuted while fixing a power line to an electric lawn mower in the garden of his country home last weekend.

Sir Raymond's only son told the coroner:

"My father was so used to electrical connections that he did this one wrongly. The fact that he had no shoes on killed him."

Monroe Stitches and Baskets

By Linda Fischer

The two groups suggest daily emphasis during farm safety week (July 24-30) on: Sunday — reverence for life; Monday — safety begins at home; Tuesday — agricultural chemical; Wednesday — prevent falls; Thursday — highway safety; Friday — farmers machinery; and Saturday — recreation safety.

In order to prove these emphasis are important for a 4-H day of the week, they held a safety night program Friday with the Jackson Township 4-H clubs as their guests.

Duval Go Getters

By Terry Reed

Jimmy Wells led in the 4-H club pledge and Charles Frank led in the American pledge at the last meeting of the Duval Go Getters. Charles Frank was chosen as one of the top five health contestants in Pickaway County.

Its community projects included a $15 donation to the fair board for pole barns; donation to the Wayne P. T. A. of a ham and removal of shrubbery in front of Wayne School. They will replace the old shrubbery with new later.

The health chairman, Dora Greene and her committee, David Greene, Doug Roth, Lucy Hopkins, and Paula Hopkins, presented the health program. Several pamphlets were handed out to the members and advisors. Questions for self evaluation on different phases of health were asked.

Our health projects include a dental check up and eye examination for each member.

The second tour of the Westfall Livestock 4-H club was a trip to each member's house to see his projects. Tips on fitting and showing were given by the advisors. Refreshments were served at the Hopkins home.

The annual picnic of the club was held at Gold Cliff Park. Everyone enjoyed the picnic supper and the skating afterwards. The next meeting will be the fourth Tuesday of July.

Time for Corn Leaf Aphid

Tassel Insect

Can Destroy Crops

By GEORGE HAMRICK
County Extension Agent,
Agriculture

Corn leaf aphid infestation begins in the tassels of corn before the top leaves are unrolled. Sometimes these aphids disappear without need for treatment and parasites reduce aphids quickly.

Corn should be watched as the tassels emerge from the whorl. If 25 per cent or more plants are heavily infested and soil moisture is low, there is justification for spraying when tassels are 25 to 50 per cent out.

The best protection to this aphid is in a resistant variety of corn. There are varieties that have shown considerable resistance to this insect.

However, if a resistant variety was not used, then Malathion or Parathion will destroy aphids. High clearance ground sprayers are preferred for use. The results with airplane application have not been consistent, but this method should not be ruled out. The time of application is very important.

In making corn yield checks last year there was in at least two incidences losses amounting to 33 per cent of the total crop. This was caused by the corn leaf aphid. Be on the lookout for this "critter".

State Penal Shoemaking Backlog Is Reported

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio Penal Industries reported today that shoe manufacturing production at Mansfield reformatory has reached a peak where shoes can be sold to city and county institutions.

Lee Closson, acting superintendent of penal industries, said the reformatory was unable to turn out sufficient shoes to supply state institution needs until several months ago. A surplus of 30,000 pairs of shoes now has been built up.

Insects, Disease Invade County

By GEORGE HAMRICK
County Extension Agent,
Agriculture

Considerable acreages of the alfalfa in the county is affected with alfalfa leaf spot.

This disease can be noticed by the dark spots on the leaves of alfalfa and later the leaves turn yellow. This disease is one of the best known foliage diseases of alfalfa, once thought to be the most destructive of all alfalfa diseases.

In just recent years much has been learned about a plant's resistance to this disease. Only a few individuals of the common varieties are resistant. There is not a practical control for this disease. It is prevalent this year because of the humid weather and heavy dews. The only control is in a resistant variety.

Many housewives have been concerned with little hard shelled black beetles with white or yellow spots on their back called sap beetles. They have been noticed to a great extent on sweet corn.

THESE beetles are not primary invaders of our fruits or vegetables. The fruit of vegetable has been damaged by some other insect and these little sap beetles (nitidulids) appear where the damage has been done and feed on the juices of the fruit or vegetable.

There is not a known practical control of them because any insecticide that could be used would also be harmful to humans. Fruits or vegetables that are allowed to become over ripe will be attacked by these sap beetles also.

Many of our lawns and shrubs seem to be very attractive to the Green June beetle. These beetles are just a little larger than the May beetle and have a greenish-bronze color. They are more common in the south and are often called the "figeater".

This beetle feeds on many plants, eating roots, stems and leaves. The adults fly in large numbers, making a loud buzzing which is somewhat similar to the buzzing of bumblebees.

The larva of these beetles are grubs that feed upon grass roots in the soil. They will completely destroy a lawn.

If you notice a great number of these beetles in your lawn this summer, then you should treat your lawn next spring with a Chlordane powder. This powder will destroy the grubs which in turn will eliminate the adult beetle.

Clothing Labels Prevent Haphazard Buying of Goods

By KOLEEN K. EWING
County Extension Agent,
Home Economics

We are all consumers. Haphazard buying wastes hard earned money, but wise buying gives us more for our dollars. If wise, we know our family clothing needs, how much money we have to spend, the price of each item and its quality compared to another.

Most clothing items have a brand or trade name which is a standard, but not a guarantee of quality. A brand name makes it convenient to find the same item again.

Informative labels describe the quality of a fabric, garment or both. A guaranteed washable fabric, for example, may be made into a garment with an unwashable trim.

We judge a label's helpfulness if it — 1. Defines fiber content and fabric finish. 2. Describes qualities in order of importance.

3. Gives information on use and care. 4. Describes hidden values and qualities. 5. Is stated in terms we can understand.

6. Gives direct, honest and complete facts. 7. Has name and address of manufacturer. 8. Is in a form we can save for future use. Labels are put on garments for our use. Look for them and read before you buy. Perhaps you may save yourself some trouble and expense.

Cleveland Set To Assist Slayer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Merle McCurdy, public defender for Cuyahoga County and former assistant county prosecuting attorney, is going to appeal the case of a condemned Ohio slayer to the United States Supreme Court.

Gov. Michael V. DiSalle announced today that McCurdy had offered to act for Richard Rutherford, 2, who was convicted in the robbery-slaying of Lawrence Price, 30, in Bridgeport Aug. 13, 1957.

The Ohio Supreme Court had for last July 8 but Gov. DiSalle granted him a 120-day stay to permit an appeal to the U.S. Supreme Court.

Do You Know

By GEORGE HAMRICK

Labor receives almost as much of the consumer's food dollar as does the farmer. Of the $57.7 billion Americans spent for food in 1958, the farmer received $20.8 billion, labor got $17.5 billion, and the remainder went for processing, transportation, taxes and other costs.

The total farm value of food for the U. S. population increased from $19.3 billion in 1948 to $20.8 billion in 1958, but marketing costs after the food left the farm increased from $22.9 billion to $36.9 billion, or $14.0 billion.

ASKS 'HONEST DOLLAR'

Treasury Secretary Robert B. Anderson, the "Eisenhower Democrat" from Texas, urges the Republican platform committee in Chicago to repledge what he terms a "stable, secure, honest dollar." His name is heard in vice presidential talk.

There were 95 cases listed, 60 of them paralytic, as compared with 969 at this time in 199 and paralytic in the preceding week which ended July 9.

Rhode Island with 24 new polio cases, and California and South Carolina with 12 each accounted for one more than half of 1st week's state total. The paralytic cases in these states totaled 37, also more than half the national count.

Ohio GOP Sold on Nixon, Wooed by Veep Candidates

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Delegates to the Republican National Convention from Ohio—going and gone to Chicago—are being wooed by candidates for the vice presidential nomination.

The Buckeye delegation is solidly behind Vice President Richard M. Nixon for the presidential nomination and expects to back his choice for a running-mate. They can't see anyone else getting the nomination at the convention opening Monday.

The Ohio headquarters is in Chicago's Conrad Hilton Hotel.

But rumors, however unlikely, that the convention might be thrown open to pick a vice presidential nominee have caused delegates and alternates to cast a second look at literature from some second-spot aspirants.

Most of the literature comes from a committee boosting Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona for President. But despite that pitch, Buckeye delegates regard him as a candidate for vice president along with a half dozen others.

Apparent front-runner in the stable of favorites and dark horses is Henry Cabot Lodge, now in his eighth year as chief of the U.S. delegation to the United Nations and a former U.S. senator from Massachusetts.

Talk of New York Gov. Nelson Rockefeller's prospects for the No. 1 spot and his disclaimer of interest in the vice presidency appear to leave the Ohio delegation cold. Some of the other prospects, they include Labor Secretary James P. Mitchell, national GOP Chairman Thruston Morton of Kentucky, Sen. Everett McKinley Dirksen of Illinois and Rep. Charles A. Halleck of Indiana, House minority leader and permanent chairman of the convention.

Ohio Republicans elected 56 delegates, each with a full convention vote, and 56 alternates last May but Albert J. Mayer Jr. of Cincinnati, Second District delegate, died recently. His place will be taken by alternate Donald H. Rolf of Cincinnati, former state senator.

An estimated 650 Ohioans will go to Chicago for the five-day sessions in the amphitheater. Just how they all will get scarce tickets is the headache of Mrs. Katharine Kennedy Brown of Dayton, Ohio national committeewoman. She is in charge of ducats for State Republican Headquarters.

Complicating her problem is an allotment for Ohio of only 163 tickets to the big hall, in addition to a pair each for delegates and singles for alternates.

Mrs. Brown and veteran Rep. Clarence J. Brown of Blanchester in the Seventh District expect to receive new terms on the Republican National Committee. State Chairman Ray C. Bliss of Akron also is on the National Committee. He has to chances for another term—election of a majority of Republicans in the Ohio congressional delegation on Nov. 8 or the casting of all of Ohio's electoral votes for the GOP presidential choice.

Both Browns and Bliss are convention delegates at-large.

Chairman of the Ohio delegation is John W. Bricker, former U.S. senator, governor and the 1944 vice presidential nominee. Bliss, Mrs. Florence G. Morris of Toledo, and Courtney Burton of Gates Mills near Cleveland are vice chairmen. Burton and Mrs. Morris also are at-large delegates.

Attending the convention, but not as a delegate, will be State Auditor James A. Rhodes, Ohio's honorary second choice for president. Accompanying him will be Mrs. Rhodes and their three daughters, Susan, 17; Sandra 15 and Sharon, 10.

Secretary of State Ted W. Brown will attend as a delegate at-large. Delegates selected to T. Szymanski of Fremont as honorary vice chairman of the convention but the party stalwart's health may not permit him to attend.

For Ohioans it is the first time in more than two decades that they haven't had a native favorite son or a Buckeye candidate at the head of the GOP delegation. Delegates are pledged directly to Nixon for President this year.

Four years ago Bricker was the Ohio favorite son to hold the delegation for President Dwight Eisenhower. In 1952, the late Sen. Robert A. Taft was nosed out for the presidential nomination by Eisenhower. Taft sought the nomination in 1948 only to lose to Thomas E. Dewey of New York. In 1944, Bricker ran for President but settled for the second spot on the ticket with Dewey. And in 1940 and 1936, Taft was the Ohio favorite son.

Taft's son, Robert, a state representative from Cincinnati, is a delegate at-large. Accompanying the Ohio delegation will be the Republican glee club of about 40 members from the Columbus area. Started in 1872, the club has entertained at numerous conventions.

GOP To Use Historic Gavel

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP)—An oak gavel, carved from a piece of a famed American warship, used in the 1860 Republican convention that nominated Abraham Lincoln 100 years ago, will be used to open the GOP convention in Chicago Monday.

George A. Morton, a New Haven insurance man, delivered the gavel to the state committee headquarters in Hartford today.

The knocker has been handed down in Morton's family since the days of his great-grandfather, the late Massachusetts senator and congressman George Ashmun.

The gavel was made of oak from the American frigate Lawrence, Commodore Oliver Hazard Perry's flagship of the Battle of Lake Erie in 1813.

Preservation without Side Effects

In a few years food now considered perishable may be delivered to every state in the union and foreign countries as well, unfrozen and uncooked—just as it came from the sea or the farm—as the culmination of a project under development by the Atomic Energy Commission.

In a departure from its primary military objectives, the AEC is beginning a five-year program to develop a pasteurization process induced by irradiation to keep perishable foods far beyond limits now possible.

Five million dollars will be spent on the program to preserve edibles in a fresh state, as the result of research already accomplished by various military programs. The Army has been investigating the possibility of sterilizing fresh foods from irradiation with a view toward wide savings in food distribution costs for its troops.

Sterilization offers the widest protection from bacteria, but it also has presented the greatest variety of undesirable side effects. Food which has been processed under this method loses much of its taste and color. Sterilized beef was described by one researcher as smelling like a wet dog.

Anyone familiar with the temperament of soldiers regarding food knows this is sufficient cause to junk the sterilization program, but the scientists have run into another snag—the apparent lingering of radiation in the food.

Pasteurization, while not permitting fresh foods to be held in room temperatures or under refrigeration as long as those sterilized, apparently is followed by few after effects. Government laboratories have not found indications of lingering radiation in this process, although they have not reached the definite conclusion that there is none.

If the new AEC study proves conclusively there is no harmful irradiation or loss of nutrient value in food pasteurized by irradiation pasteurization, Montana residents will sit down to the same fresh crab dinner found on a New Jersey menu, and fried chicken everywhere will come direct from the fowl instead of a frozen package.

Courtin' Main

Money is tender when you have it and mighty tough when you don't.

Snow — Blissful Thought in July

Such is the preoccupation of the human being with affairs of the moment, it is difficult to project thoughts ahead and to visualize that in less than two months schools will be under way again, and in three months snow will be falling along the northern border of the country. But to many a person, caught in a heat wave, that word snow is something to drool over.

In fact, so rapidly do seasons succeed one another that not many deep thinkers have dwelt on the thought that days are already becoming shorter. A month has passed since the longest day of the year.

Of course, this does not mean that before long it will be dark when the breadwinner returns home from toil, but midsummer is here and in a few weeks progress toward autumn will be definitely speeded up.

Down on the farm quite a few chores remain to be performed before the relative hiatus of winter sets in, and there seems less and less time in which to do them. And the small town and suburban gardeners seem to find it more difficult day by day to keep up with the weeds and the crops.

But, to return to daydreaming, in the far north near-zero temperatures and snow are only weeks away. What a blissful thought—in the midst of July heat wave, that is.

Some Habitually Unemployed

An impression that a large segment of the jobless are chronically unemployed is confirmed by a University of Michigan study. Based on widespread interviews in the last two years, the economics department of the that school reports that nearly two-thirds of those out of work over that period said unemployment was the usual thing for them.

A sizable percentage said unemployment was seasonal, while 17 per cent reported they were jobless only a small part of the time.

"These findings suggest," the researchers say, "that under present economic conditions much of the unemployment that occurs affects the same workers repeatedly, while most people seem to be wholly immune."

Education has much to do with this. Four out of five of the college educated never had employment trouble but 46 per cent of those with only a grade school education suffered repeated periods of unemployment.

Of the three to four million who are now habitually unemployed, there must be many capable of acquiring skills that would make them good candidates for steady jobs.

Kennedy Has Strong Machine

By George Sokolsky

The Americans for Democratic Action is an organization of the remnants of Roosevelt's New Deal—the bright young men who, during the pre-war years of the Roosevelt Administration immigrated to Washington in large numbers to change the world. They were a young, excited, idealistic group of experts in many fields. They conceived and produced many of the alphabetical bureaus of the New Deal.

Unfortunately, the years have passed and they are no longer juvenile intellectuals; they are workmen in many fields who have to earn a living as we all do. But they are all nostalgic for the good old days when F.D.R. sat in the White House; when Tommy the Cork held forth on his accordion; when Henry Wallace was the social philosopher of the American dream and Rexford Guy Tugwell flexed his muscles against the future.

True, the Democratic Party continues to speak of its liberalism but with no definitions. The A.D.A. assumed the task of sustaining a Liberal program, quite clearly defined. Its hope originally was to work in both parties, but it has not met with much success among the Republicans.

In 1960, this group attempted to run its own candidate, Senator Hubert Humphrey, but he was unable to make the grade. It then attempted a Blitz for Adlai Stevenson which also collapsed. Some of the A. D. A. group finally supported John Kennedy, hoping to get on the bandwagon, but he no longer needed them. They particularly objected to his selection of Lyndon Johnson as Vice President.

Although most of the platform was written by Chester Bowles and Sam Rosenman, the A. D. A. managed to have some of their principles included in it. They believed that John Kennedy could be pushed into an acceptance of their inflationary policy in economics and their universalist position in international relations. They were sure that Robert Kennedy's friendship with Walter Reuther would help them to gobble up the next administration.

The nomination of Lyndon Johnson for Vice President was a shock to them. Those who watched television must have seen the faces of Joseph Rauh and Robert Nathan as they moved about the convention hall trying to discover a way to get a Vice President to their liking. They were not only angry; they were in despair.

The truth is that they were dealing with the strongest political machine that had ever been developed in his country in either party. The Kennedy clan represents political genius, a capacity for realistic appraisal and an immediate response to problems. Kennedy faced the alternative of losing the South or losing the radicals. The loss of the South could mean defeat; the loss of the radicals means nothing in election terms. To whom will they turn? The Republicans and Richard Nixon? Obviously not. Some of them might attempt to do something about Nelson Rockefeller who, despite everything, will have his name presented to the Republican Convention.

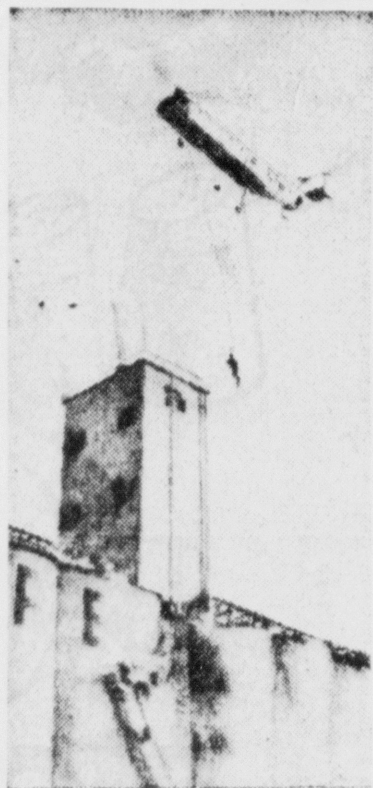

Rockefeller has a Messianic complex, believing that he is a man of destiny and the Republicans do not know what they are losing in not accepting him. His managers have taken space for propaganda during the Republican Convention and the New York delegation is being importuned to make him a favorite son and to present his name as such.

Whereas the A. D. A. actually had representation at the Democratic Convention through the District of Columbia delegation, it will have no such representation at the Republican Convention.

Senator Kennedy's motif appears in every statement. It might be stated this way: he has won the nomination. He won every primary he entered. He won in the Convention. He is going to lead his party and he will fight his campaign as his management of the enterprise plans it.

Despite all the gossip about how much money the Kennedys spent, no one came forth with the slightest evidence. His opposition had a chance to object; no one objected. When Kennedy chose Lyndon Johnson as Vice President, he called in the Big City Bosses to discuss matters. There is no record of his having called in a single A. D. A. officer. He is operating through the Democratic National Committee and the Democratic state and county organizations, which is as it should be because by such a method he lessens the dissensions within the Democratic Party and at the same time reduces the effectiveness of the so-called independents.

LAFF-A-DAY

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

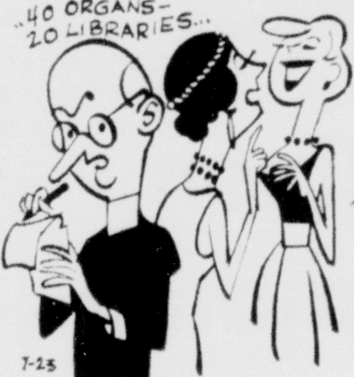

A MISSIONARY, writes J. Arthur Spring, came home from the fields for a vacation and was invited to dinner by the congregation's richest widow. Later he told his wife, "The other ladies present really amazed me. Some to my certain knowledge wore a church, 40 portable organs and 20 libraries."

In his longing to provide the gospel for his aboriginal flock, the earnest missionary could not refrain from estimating the silks, jewelry and furs of the guests at the dinner in terms of his people's needs.

One day in the 1670's, the then Earl of Dorset happened to pick up a copy of a recently published book at his favorite bookseller. "I was surprised," he noted in his diary, "with some passages I struck upon dipping here and there, and bought it. My bookseller begged me to speak in its favor if I liked it, for copies lay on his hands as waste paper."

The book was Milton's PARADISE LOST.

Gridder Diet Is Analyzed

By Herman N. Bundesen, M.D.

The customary athletic training table diet which so many college coaches will be stressing this fall may be for the birds instead of for the football players.

A couple of nutritionists from the Harvard University School of Public Health looked into this matter of athletic diets a while back and decided that the coaches might do well to study nutrition along with their secret plays.

The nutritionists — both women — declared flatly:

"Many of the more bizarre nutritional beliefs of coaches echo Greek, Roman or even older tribal advice."

The World Today

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON (AP) — It was like drawing a circle around a frog and telling him not to jump out of it. This is what the United States did with Russia. And it worked, too, until the frog jumped.

And that's what put America in its latest dilemma.

Back in 1947, when George F. Kennan was head of the State Department's policy planning staff, he outlined an American plan followed ever since. As he said, it meant "holding the line and hoping for the best."

The idea was to ring Russia—then infinitely weaker than the United States—with military bases and alliances to keep it from pushing or overrunning her neighbors.

At that time, 13 years ago, the Soviet Union had no hydrogen bomb, no missiles, and Red China didn't exist. The mainland was still being run by Chiang Kai-shek, the American ally. But Kennan was doing some wishful thinking:

1. That this containment policy — military encirclement — would not only keep the Russians behind their own frontiers but would put internal pressure on the Soviet government.

2. That the pressure might hasten Soviet collapse internally or at least force a change of direction or intent because, Kennan felt and wrote, Russia contained within itself the seeds of its own destruction.

Up till now the containment policy has kept the Russians from bulldozing their immediate neighbors. But, contrary to Kennan's hopes, instead of collapse the Soviet Union's internal development has been phenomenal.

Russian strength has increased so tremendously that only this week New York's Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller said the balance of power has shifted to the Soviet Union. The Russians have been acting as if they believed that, too.

They still can't, without risking war, push directly against the American circle drawn around them. So they have done the obvious and next-best thing for them. They have leaptfrogged out of the circle.

They have done it not only by the usual propaganda and intrigue but by promises of both economic but even military help to countries on the American side of the circle. This is the most glaring example: the economic deals with Prime Minister Fidel Castro's Cuba and a warning to the United States to keep hands off. Thus the Russians, without resorting to war to smash the circle, have hopped over and are trying to set up shop in America's backyard.

This almost certainly is only the beginning of such efforts to penetrate, by one means or another, the Latin American world. And Russia's efforts to penetrate Africa will be even more barefaced.

The American government can hardly dissuade the Russians from encroaching in areas close to the United States by complaining this is our backyard.

The Russians can answer by pointing out that for years the United States has linked itself to the Soviets' next-door neighbors with economic and military help and even military alliances.

For example: If the Russians send troops into Africa at the request of the Congo government, they can remind the world that the United States sent troops into the Middle East at the request of the government of Lebanon.

There would be a difference, of course. There were no United Nations troops already in Lebanon to keep order as there are now in the Congo.

And the worst is yet to come. Mainland China, now in Red Chinese hands, in a few years with Soviet help, should be militarily strong enough to inflict the miseries on the American containment policy in the Far East.

Where does it all lead to? Some guesses can be made.

The United States will need new ideas in dealing with the Communist world. Kennan himself a couple of years ago was shifting around to the idea of a pullback in Europe.

This country will probably, in some fashion, have to make revisions in its containment policy and develop new programs to keep the rest of the world neutral or out of Communist hands.

B&O Flyer Is Derailed Near Athens

ATHENS, Ohio (AP)—Damage estimated at $29,000 was caused today when a Baltimore & Ohio passenger train crashed into a big truck-trailer eight miles east of here.

The truck was demolished; the locomotive and five cars left the track but no one was injured.

Passengers on the train, some of whom were asleep when the crash came, were transferred to Greyhound buses to continue their journey.

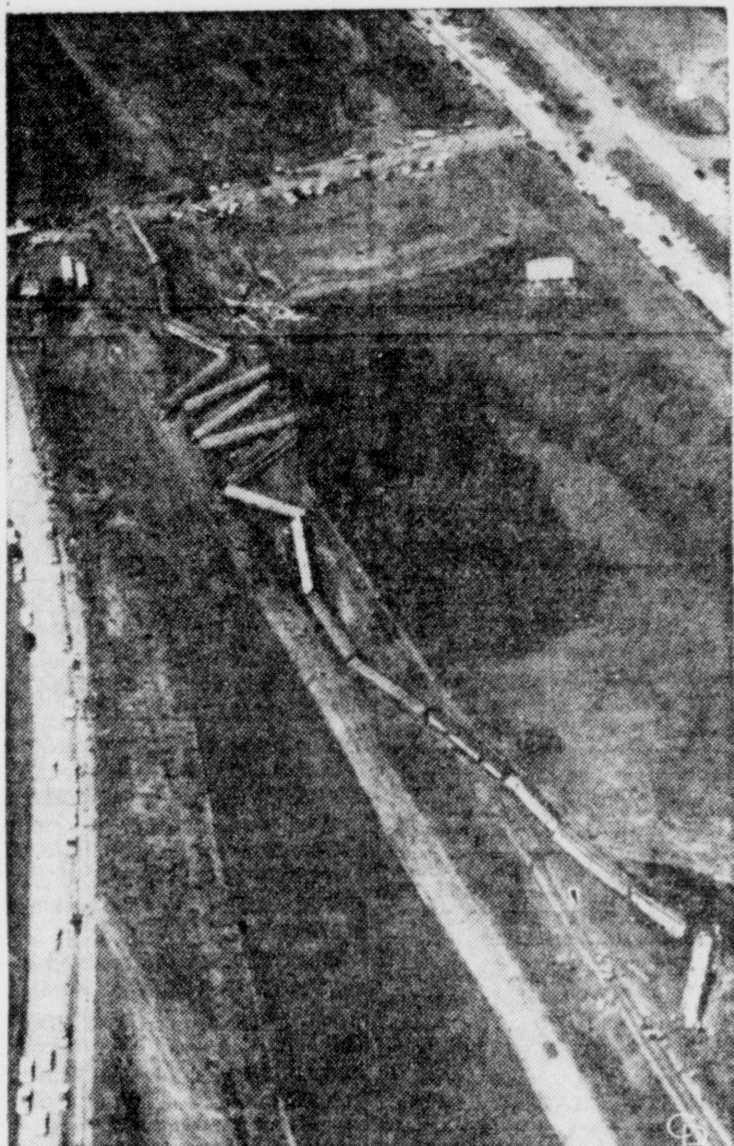

Railroad officials estimated damage to the engine and cars at $10,000 and loss to the truck and its cargo, 19,000 pounds of magnesium, was estimated at $19,000.

Arthur Henderhan, 33, of Marietta, driver for the Merchants Delivery of Marietta, was en route to Middletown with the magnesium, as part of a convoy. He had halted his truck on U.S. 50 to awaken some other drivers who were taking a nap. The brakes on his truck failed and the rig swung across the highway, over an embankment onto the railroad tracks.

The driver made a futile effort to get the truck off the tracks but the passenger train struck and demolished it, throwing the engine and cars off the track.

There was extensive damage to the locomotive and some of the cars. Emmitt Johnson was the engineer and Hugh Breckinham was the conductor. Both live in Chillicothe.

A wrecking crew was on the scene this morning clearing the track and moving the engine and cars back to the rails.

DIDN'T MAKE IT TO LAND OF OLD NOKOMIS—The Milwaukee Road's crack streamliner Hiawatha lies a tangled mess near St. Paul, Minn., where it came a-cropper with a trailer truck at a crossing. Some 34 passengers were injured, none seriously. Both engineer and truck driver came out unscathed.

Red Diplomat-Spy Ousted from U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States today ordered the immediate expulsion of a Soviet diplomat Petr Y. Ezhov on the grounds he was a spy collecting intelligence data including aerial photographs.

The State Department said that Ezhov, a Soviet Embassy third secretary, "flagrantly abused his diplomatic status by engaging in espionage activity."

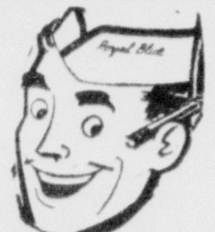

Ezhov paid an American commercial photographer, the department said, more than $1,000 for aerial photographs of American cities.

NEW DELHI (AP) — India, a country that received its start on industrialization from Britain, has shipped its first order of pig iron to London.

A consignment of 2,000 tons recently sailed and another 6,500 tons have been ordered by Britain. India has exported iron to Japan and Pakistan in the past.

Worship Every Week ---

"Compromise" To Be Theme Of Church of Christ Service

We are called to moderation and moderation is a virtue in our daily routine life. But when faced with the destiny of souls, no one can afford to compromise.

The early church declared the word fearlessly and when called upon to compromise, its answer was, "We ought to obey God rather than men" (Acts 5:29). Should our stand be any less firm?

The morning message at the Church of Christ will be "How Far Compromise?" It is to be presented by Medford Kaehle, preacher. The 7:45 p. m. lesson will be, "The Unknown Quantity".

First E.U.B.

The Rev. Gerald H. Niswender will be guest speaker at the First Evangelical United Brethren Church, Sunday. The service begins at 9:30 a. m.

The church choir, directed by Montford Kirkwood, will sing, Miss Lucille Kirkwood, organist, will play the following numbers: prelude, "Song Without Words" (Richolson); offertory, "Meditation" (Martin) and postlude, "Chorus of Joy" (Lorenz). ## Presbyterian Worship at the Presbyterian Church 10:30 a. m. Sunday, will follow the theme: "As God Hath Forgiven You".

There are people who have learned to face death not with fear, nor with bitter defiance, nor yet with hopeless acceptance as though it were the end but rather with serene mind and confident heart as one who steps into the next room to meet a well beloved friend. And this, we all admire and hope to learn for ourselves. What kind of a "Faith" can we find that will enable us to do this?

The Rev. Donald Mitchell will develop this theme from the scripture in St. Paul's second letter to the Corinthians, chapter 5.

In the choir, Mr. Donald Meyers will sing the baritone solo: "The Lord's Prayer" by Malotte.

The preaching service will begin at 10:30 a. m. and will consist of Bible reading and message.

The pastor, W. A. Baria, will bring the sermon entitled "Jesus, the Matchless Name." The name "Jesus" is the most precious in all the earth. To know Jesus is far better than all the silver or gold in the world. Jesus was the very center of the heart, soul and service of the early disciples. They were saved by the name of Jesus, they were baptised in the name of Jesus, they preached in the name of Jesus, they risked their lives for the name of Jesus, and did all things that Jesus might have pre-eminence.

Truly the Bible is centered around one person and that is Jesus. He is the King that sits on the throne of each verse. Just as Jesus was the center of the whole being of the early believers, even so he should be the center of His followers today. Our salvation, life and service is focused around the supreme person of Jesus.

Church Leaders Urge Prayer For Conversion of Red Boss

NEW YORK (AP)—Prayer for Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev was urged today by an interdenominational publication and several church leaders. They said the same thing could happen to him that happened to Saul of Tarsus.

Saul, the violent persecutor of early Christians, was converted on the road to Damascus and became the great missionary apostle, Paul.

United Evangelical Action, official organ of the National Assn. of Evangelicals, said that just as God's grace had melted Saul's "determined heart," it could "do the same thing for Khrushchev."

"The man whose nation has spread communism through a third of the world's population could be used of God to teach Christianity instead of communism and to exalt Christ instead of Marx," the article said.

The NAE is a cooperative body of Evangelical Protestant churches with about 10 million members.

In an accompanying symposium, several churchmen also urged prayer for the Communist leader. Some said sufficient prayer would either reform him or destroy him.

"Khrushchev must yield to Christ or be hurled from his despotic pinnacle if we will but pray," said the Rev. Arthur L. Bray, president of the Illinois Conference of the Wesleyan Methodist Church.

Armin R. Gesswein, chairman of the NAE's spiritual life commission, said that "it is right and God-pleasing to pray for Mr. Khrushchev," just as for other world leaders.

Said the Rev. Frank Smith, a Des Moines, Iowa, pastor: "If our Lord prayed for his murderers, should not we also pray even for those who have designed our destruction?"

Amish Man Jailed For Leaving Job

CLEVELAND (AP)—An Amish conscientious objector who quit a draft - assigned job at University Hospital here was in Medina County jail today.

Paul A. Miller, 23, was arrested by FBI agents Thursday at his home in Wilmont, Holmes County. Edward E. Hargett, agent in charge of the FBI here, said he quit his hospital job because he objected to Sunday work.

Miller was indicted May 12 on a charge of failure to comply with draft board orders to do work in maintenance of the national health and welfare in lieu of serving in the armed forces.

On June 1 he decided to take a job as laundry worker at the hospital here and the indictment was dismissed by U.S. District Judge Charles J. McNamee.

Julia Ward Howe, who wrote "Battle Hymn of the Republic," was sometimes a minister. She gave her sermons in the Unitarian Church.

ELVIS' DAD WEDS—Vernon E. Presley, 44, father of singer Elvis Presley, is honeymooning in Panama City, Fla., with his bride, the former Davada Elliott, 34. They wed in Huntsville, Ala.

One of our old teachers used to say, "I can lead you to knowledge, but only God can give you wisdom."

And how right he was. A string of diplomas and degrees does not make a man wise. Many of the wisest never had a formal education.

For knowledge is the accumulation of facts. But wisdom is the ability to apply a few facts — perhaps only one — to a life-situation.

We know a distinguished scholar who has written volumes on ecclesiastical architecture. And we know an elderly widow who told her grandchildren, "Churches ain't made to look at!"

And the scholar — earnest Christian that he is — humbly bows to the wisdom of the widow!

For whether it be a cathedral or chapel, the Church cannot enrich our lives until reverently we enter its portals to worship and serve God. The fear of the Lord is the beginning of wisdom.

Dear Abby...

By Abigail VanBuren

Style To Change Next Week

DEAR ABBY: I have a 14-year-old daughter and she has the most beautiful red hair, a very pretty face — and is as stubborn as a mule. This is my problem: She insists on wearing her hair in rolls and curls, all tangled and wild-looking. She looks like a little old lady.

I try to tell her she would be so much prettier if she would fix her hair in a simple way to show its beauty. She says it's the style this way and all her friends think it looks "sharp." I realize that teenagers like to do what their friends do, but isn't there some way I can get through to her?

NOT LISTENED TO

DEAR NOT: I agree that some of the new hairdos look like an unmade army cot, but teenagers must have what's "in" in order to be "way out." Let her fix her hair the way she wants to, (as long as she doesn't shave it or dye it). Next week it will be something else.

DEAR ABBY: When my husband was 19 he married a girl of 18. They lived together for 9 months and he was sent overseas. When he came back she told him she had fallen in love with another man and wanted a divorce. He tried with all his might to save his marriage, but it was hopeless. He gave her the divorce and she married the other man.

I met my husband a year after he was divorced. He told me his story and I found it all true. He is a fine Christian and is very active in the church, as I am.

Very Dressed-Up Season Coming, Designers Indicate

NEW YORK (AP) — If fall doesn't turn out to be one gay ball after another, many a New York fashion designer is going to be mighty discomfited.

Predicting the most dressed-up season in the last couple of decades, they've brought back the long evening dress in all its glory. Small fortunes have been invested in lavish, imported fabrics to give it a proper welcome.

Samuel Winston is one who is pinning his hopes on more formal partying. His collection, designed by Roxane, was shown Thursday to visiting fashion editors in the fourth afternoon of press week. It was literally dazzling.

Roxane, who recently won a fashion award for her glitter gowns, spared neither bead nor sequin. As climax of the showing came a series of long evening gowns in exclusive soufflé lame brocades and silk damasks and evening coats solidly encrusted with jeweled embroidery or smothered in furs like albino fox.

Their brilliance and $2,000 price tags, roughly, took the play away from excellent Roxane clothes shown earlier: coat costumes of dress or two-piece suit with coat; princess silhouetted coat dresses.

Another with firm faith that formality will win out this fall was David E. Gottlieb. His current collection for Gothe sparkled with full-length gowns, both dinner and ball, in metallics and jeweled embroideries. Some had slight court trains.

If these gentlemen and their purist beliefs prevail, the days of the good little dress that would take you from 5 p. m. to midnight are numbered. There's no getting around it. You will have to rush home from the cocktail party, to change to a dinner dress and then later fly back to switch to the more elegant evening gown.

GE and Kiwanis Rally for Wins

General Electric and Kiwanis, tied for first place in the Babe Ruth second round, were forced to come from behind to register victories at Ted Lewis Park yesterday.

GE scored two runs in the top of the seventh to nip DuPont and Kiwanis had to go nine innings to subdue Ashville, 8-7.

The results leave Kiwanis and GE with 4-0 records for the second half of the season. The two teams meet next Saturday morning for the first time this round.

With DuPont leading, 3-2, in the seventh, David Bass of GE sent a scorching single into right center to score Jimmie Wood who had reached first on an error and on a stolen base. Bass came home with the winning run a minute later when Granville Jones' hot smash was bobbled.

DUPONT pushed to a 2-0 lead in the second when George Reeser poked a long double to left center with the bases loaded. Three consecutive GE errors set the stage for Reeser's blast.

GE notched its first run in the third as Mick Tomlinson was safe on an error. He stole second, then came home on a single by Jones.

The Electric nine knotted the count in the fourth on a walk to Bob Purcell who went to second on a passed ball, advanced to third on Freddie Moore's long flyout, then got a free trip home on a balk.

DUPONT forged ahead in the fifth on successive singles by Chet Iery, Tom Copland and Dick Kline and a GE error. Iery tallied the run as Gary Lagore's grounder was bobbled.

GE went scoreless in the fifth and sixth, but Wood opened the seventh by bunting and taking advantage of a low throw to first. Bass settled things with his blast for a single and his dash home a minute afterwards.

John Good and Copland hooked up in a pitching duel over the seven innings. Good hurled allowed six hits. Good fanned 10 and walked two while Copland issued passes to four and struck out five.

JONES of GE was top swinger

Chisox Edge Closer to Leading Yanks

Chicagoans Win Series Opener From Bronx '9'

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Chicago White Sox, charging back from the grave, have streaked within three percentage points of the American League-leading New York Yankees — the club that left 'em for dead.

The Sox, tearing up their obituary that was typed by New York writers when the Yankees swept a four-game series at Chicago in mid-June, busted back for 18 hits and an 11-5 romp in the opener of a four-game set at Yankee Stadium Friday night.

It was the sixth straight success for the Sox, their longest string of the season, and 20th in their last 28 games.

The Yankees, now have lost 10 of their last 15.

Third-place Cleveland stayed 2½ games back, losing 6-4 at Boston as Vic Wertz drove in four runs with a homer and two singles.

Baltimore's fourth-place Orioles, ending their home losing string at seven, trailed by three games after beating Detroit 2-1 with a pair of unearned runs. Kansas City netted six unearned runs in defeating Washington 9-4.

In the National League, Pittsburgh padded its lead to 2½ games over Milwaukee again, winning 4-1 at San Francisco after the Braves lost 8-7 to the last-place Chicago Cubs. Los Angeles regained third place by one percentage point over St. Louis, defeating Philadelphia 2-0 on Don Drysdale's four-hit, 14-strikeout pitching. The Cardinals won 8-3 at Cincinnati.

The White Sox, trailing by six games in fourth place on July 4, simply kept rolling on a tear in which they have knocked 70 hits in five games. They've scored 47 runs in that spree, getting five of them in the fourth inning Friday night to beat Bob Turley (6-2), who had won six straight.

Early Wynn, starting pitcher, singled in the first run of the frame, breaking a 2-all tie. Minnie Minoos, who batted in three runs, clinched it with a two-run double.

Bill Skowron, who hit in a double play with the bases loaded in the fifth inning against winning reliever Frank Baumann (7-4), drove in two of the Yank runs.

At Boston, Wertz walked a three-run homer, his 11th, in the third inning for a 4-3 lead against loser Jim Grant (6-5), then singled home the winning run in the fifth. Ted Williams also homered for the Red Sox, his 15th and No. 507 of his career.

Singles by Walt Drope and Brooks Robinson and errors by Frank Bolling and Chico Fernandez gave it to the Orioles and reliever Jack Fisher (6-8), who blanked the Tigers on six hits for seven frames.

The A's wrapped it up with four unearned runs in the sixth at Washington, thanks to an error by Jim Lemon, who hit his 24th home run for the Senators.

Bellefontaine Entry Cops Hamilton Trot

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP)—Ralph Abbe, a five-year-old brown gelding owned by Ray Hennessey of Bellefontaine, won his sixth race in 14 starts last night as he came up from last place to finish first in a featured handicap trot at the Hamilton Raceway.

Ralph Abbe, driven by Eugene Fogt, got away last from the starting gate in the field of eight and still was only seventh at the half mile. He moved up to fourth in the back stretch and then took charge in the last eighth of a mile to win by a half length in 2:07 4-5. The gelding paid $7.20, $4.00 and $3.00.

The Millionaire, which finished second, paid $7.60 and $5.20, and third place Mighty Indian paid $3.80.

Yankee pitching coach Ed Lopat appeared in 12 American League games in which his team failed to score a run.

Another Palmer Comeback Needed

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—Arnold Palmer is going to have to come from behind — as he did in the Masters and National Open, and didn't in the British Open — if he's going to win the 42nd PGA championship.

Proving that even the best can get the worst of it at times, the year's leading money winner ($66,000) from Ligonier, Pa., carved out a startling 74 in Friday's second round to surrender the lead his opening 67 had given him.

Out front as 95 survivors of the cutoff (at scores of 151) went into today's third round was Jay Hebert (he pronounces it ay-beer), from the bayous of Lafayette, La.

Jay, 37, whose younger brother Lionel won this fixture in 1957 when it was at man-to-man combat instead of medal play, had five birdies and two bogeys for the day's best round of 67 and a to-day total of 139, one under par.

Palmer's unexpected collapse on the front nine left him in a three-way tie at 141 with three-time Champion Sam Snead, who had a second-round 73, and Doug Sanders, Miami Beach, Fla., who had 70-71. Between them and the leader was Don January, the Dallas hotshot, who put together a pair of 70s.

Hebert fired his round early and let the others worry in the 90-degree temperature the rest of the day. Only Fred Hawkins of El Paso, Tex., was able to ship par in the late going, over the windy, dried-out 7,163-yard Firestone Country Club course, and his 69 put him in a three-way deadlock at 142 with Ken Venturi, Palo Alto, Calif., and John O'Donnell, Baltimore.

AKRON, OHIO (AP)—Here are the scores of Ohio golfers after the second round of the Professional Golfers Association Championship.

Ed Griffiths, Youngstown, 71-74-145
Dow Finsterwald, Athens, Ohio, and Tequesta, Fla., 73-73-146

Rotary, Blue Ribbon Notch LL Victories

Rotary upset Circleville Oil, 12-7, and Blue Ribbon nipped Ward's Market, 21-19, in Little League Minors action last night.

The Blue Ribbon-Ward's Market battle was seesaw until the last out. Blue Ribbon held first and second inning leads of 3-2 and 5-4. Ward's jumped into third and fourth inning margins of 10-7 and 16-10.

The Dairy men, improving with every game, regained the lead in the fifth, 18-16. In the top of the sixth, Tom Tootle's home run shoved the Grocers into a 19-18 margin, but Blue Ribbon iced the contest on Jim Morehead's triple with two on in the bottom half of the inning.

The victory went to Smallwood who fanned six and walked 14. Jimmy Hill lost in relief of Tootle. Tootle walked three and whiffed five. Hill struck out three and issued seven free passes.

EXTRA BASE blows for Ward's were registered by Tootle, Bryce Brown, Jerry Jenkins and Harry Robinson with a double apiece; Millard Good, two doubles, and Jim Hill's triple.

Smallwood and Burton hit doubles for Blue Ribbon while team mates Crabtree and Morehead hit a pair of two-baggers each. Morehead also smacked a triple.

Leading hitters for the Grocers were Hill, and Brown 3 for 5. Top Blue Ribbon batters were Crabtree, 4 for 4; Gary Hemphre, 4 for 5, and Morehead, 3 for 5.

Rotary took a 5-3 first stanza lead over undefeated Circleville Oil and never relinquished the margin for its third win against a lone loss.

Donald Hoffman chalked up the win while G. Boltenhouse was charged with the defeat. Hoffman struck out three hits, relievers, Bruce Tigner and Lynn Heath, fanned two and one respectively. The trio walked three.

Boltenhouse whiffed six and Zimmerman, two. They walked two. Heath and Forrest Lowe hit doubles for Rotary while T. Hoffman connected for a triple.

ZIMMERMAN had a double for the Oilers and Barry Adams poked two triples. Circleville Oil committed three errors to Rotary's two.

There is no baseball action Monday due to Circleville Little and Babe Ruth League Night at Jet Stadium, Columbus. These games have been re-scheduled for next Saturday.

Tuesday action at 5:15 p. m. includes: Lincoln Plastic (3-0) vs. Rotary (3-1) on the Southend Playground; Jaycees (4-0) vs. Blue Ribbon (2-2) on the LL diamond and Elks (3-0) vs. The Herald (0-3) on the softball diamond.

The San Diego, Calif., miss posted her second straight one-under-par 71 Friday — for a half-way mark of 142—in her quest for an unprecedented third straight Open title. The only other strong contender, Marilyn Smith of French Lick, Ind., posted scores of 72-72-144.

Five Seek IL Playoff Spot

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Toronto, Buffalo and Richmond seem a cinch to get into the International League playoffs, but it is anyone's guess what team will snarl the last playoff berth. Jersey City, Rochester, Columbus, Montreal and Miami are in a dog fight for it. Only four games separate the five.

At the moment Jersey City holds the spot with a measly one percentage point over Rochester thanks to a 5-3 victory over Miami Friday night. Columbus is sixth place, squeaked by Richmond 3-2. The Montreal at Toronto and Rochester at Buffalo games were rained out. Columbus scored its winning run against Richmond in the ninth on an error. Pinch runner Al Jackson was on third with two out when Roberto Herrera tapped an easy bouncer back to Richmond pitcher Jim Bronstad. He got his glove on the ball, but it slid out and Bronstad fell down chasing it as Jackson raced home to end the game.

Jim Umbright, who survived four jet errors in the first two innings, pitched a 5-hitter for his second win against three losses.

Piersalls' Bat Booms, but Indians Lose

BOSTON (AP)—Jim Piersall, the Cleveland Indians' controversial center fielder, now has hit home runs in three successive games, including two homers Friday night.

Despite Piersall's effort, the Red Sox took a 6-4 decision over the Indians. Vic Wertz, who went to Boston in the trade that brought Piersall to Cleveland in 1958, hit a three-run homer and drove in a fourth run with a single.

Ted Williams lined a homer down the right field line in the first inning — his 15th this year and 507th of his major league career.

The Indians now are 2½ games behind league-leading New York, and 2½ games behind Chicago's White Sox, who are just a few percentage points behind the Yankees.

Piersall batted in three runs with his four-bagger. In the second inning, with Vic Power on base by way of a walk, Jim drove a homer over the left field screen and raced around the bases at top speed. John Temple's double off the left centerfield fence scored Hank Foiles, who had walked, making the score 3-1.

Wertz put the Red Sox ahead with his homer off Cleveland starter Jim Grant in the third inning, scoring Willie Tasby and Williams ahead of him.

Latest Fashions for Men: Green Suit, Hightop Shoes

NEW YORK (AP)—Men, if you want to be in the avant garde of fashion this season, hold onto that double-breasted suit up in the attic—the green one, preferably—and rush to the nearest Salvation Army depot for a pair of high-top shoes.

Everything you and your grandfather ever owned has a good chance of coming back into style again.

This became apparent Thursday when the American Institute of Men's and Boy's Wear unveiled its new fall line before an audience of top female fashion writers and a few unkempt male reporters.

The Ivy League look is still with us, and so is the Continental look, but apparently the disgruntled designers have abandoned any real hope of dragging the American male into the rocket age. The big hit of the show was something called the British accent in men's wear, a tailor's throwback to a gaudier, gaudier era that might more accurately have been named the Immigrant Look.

Your real fop this year, if the designers have their way, will sport a loud check suit, preferably green or gold, a bowler hat, high-rising tan gaiters, and look for all the world as if he had just disembarked from a ship that somehow was delayed 50 years at sea. All he needs to complete the ensemble is a straw suitcase and a red polka-dot handkerchief.

"This is what we call the country suit," explained the man at the microphone. "Lighter, brighter, natural in expression, responsible but unaffected, a conscious return to the elegance of another era."

The four employees will join several other DuPont personnel from the local area who have shifted to the Florence plant.

Nixon-Rocky

In this, Rockefeller seemed to make his most solid gain. The compromise specifically endorsed the sit-in demonstrations Negroes have been staging throughout the South. However, it did not endorse giving the attorney general injunctive power in fields other than voting. It only talked of "aggressive action."

On another point, Rockefeller's point of view seemed to prevail. The Democratic platform, adopted last week in Los Angeles, had called for an increase in national production, at a rate of 5 to 6 per cent a year. Rockefeller in general terms endorsed this idea.

In other ways, Rockefeller put his stamp on the platform proposals. For instance, the compromise called for reorganization of the government to support the president "in the crucial decision-making process—to cope effectively with modern problems and challenges."

Rockefeller, while always warmly praising President Eisenhower's conduct of the government, had hinted from time to time that such things as the Paris summit collapse and the cancellation of the visit to Japan could have been avoided by better planning of foreign policy.

Another point: The Nixon-Rockefeller compromise called for an airborne alert, presumably of the Strategic Air Command. This has been advocated by the SAC commander, Gen. Thomas S. Power, but Eisenhower has insisted that such a measure is not necessary at this time and his chiefs in the Pentagon have backed him up.

Rockefeller's report of the compromise also presented disarmament as No. 3 in seven numbered points in the 1,000 word document. In disarmament, it recommended:

A. Intensify the quest for better detection methods;

B. Discontinue nuclear weapon tests in the atmosphere;

C. Discontinue other tests as detection methods make possible, and

D. Resume immediately underground nuclear testing for purpose of improving methods of detection.

All of this appeared in accord with the administration position.

O-ville Junior Women's Club Continues Scholarship Plan

The Circleville Junior Women's Club will continue two scholarships, awarded in past years, to Miss Carolyn Stout and Miss Rosalie Wheeler.

The Circleville Junior Women's Club is a member of the Ohio Federation of Women's Clubs and the General Federation of Women's Clubs. Under local projects and carrying out the aims and purposes of the federation, each year the Circleville Club devotes its funds to its scholarship program which enables a girl from Pickaway County to further her education in either the field of nursing or teaching.

The highly successful performance of the musical opera "Naughty Marietta," presented the latter part of April and supported by Pickaway County and Circleville residents, has made it possible for the Club to again continue its educational awards.

Miss Carolyn Stout, Ashville, will enter her senior year at Capital University this coming fall measuring in dual education. Miss Stout received her scholarship upon graduation from Ashville

High School in 1957. Carolyn's activities in college include the following:

She has served two years on the Judiciary Committee of the Women's Residence Government at Capital; vice president of Women's Residence Government for 1959-60 and president elect for 1960.

Miss Stout has been a member of the Women's Chorus for two and a half years and a member of the Board of College Activities for two years.

As sophomore counselor, Carolyn lived with the freshmen girls in their dormitory and worked closely with Office of Dean of Women in orienting the freshmen girls to college life.

As junior counselor during 1959-60 in the Honor Annex, Carolyn had the responsibility for maintenance and co-ordination with the Dean of Women and the sophomore girls.

During 1959-60 she served as secretary of Phi Omega Chapter of the Kappa Sigma Theta sorority.

Miss Stout has also worked part time as desk receptionist at Saylor Ackerman Hall. This summer she is working as secretary for Mr. Tom A. Renick, attorney, 114½ N. Court St., and is also serving as organist at the Ashville Methodist Church.

Miss Rosalie Wheeler will become a senior September 1 in the School of Nursing at White Cross Hospital, Columbus. Miss Wheeler is taking a three year course (attending school the year round) and has started her affiliation with Children's Hospital, Columbus State Hospital and Benjamin Franklin, Columbus. She will then return to White Cross where she has been for the past two years and will graduate from Riverside Methodist.

Miss Wheeler is a member of the Delta Sigma Omicron Sorority, an honor sorority which is based on grades and working experience. She is also a member of the Student Nurses Association of Columbus and a member of the school basketball team.

Miss Wheeler's plans are not definite beyond graduation in September of 1961 when she will become a registered nurse. Since she has always wanted to travel, she anticipates applying for a position on an oceanliner. Thereafter, she would like to return to school to receive her bachelor degree.
